OMRON

We have worked in partnership with the experts from H-ON Consulting and it has been a very professional experience. We partnered with them to extend our scope on machinery conformity restoring service and for a UL compliance project.

Their knowledge base has been a valued addition to our team and the expertise showcased during the project execution helped enhance our standards.

H-ON Consulting valued our priorities, provided an excellent service, and created a relationship which has been mutually beneficial. The team smoothly adapted to our processes and standards, and provided services which were high in quality and on schedule.

We look forward to continuing to leverage H-ON's expertise and would not hesitate to recommend to any company looking for a reliable partner.
